“I wish we could swim,” sighed Milly and Molly.

“You can’t swim?” cried Trickle and Hoppit.

“Everyone must learn to swim.”

“Well then, we’ll learn,” said Milly and Molly.

"The underlying morals inherent within the texts are important for children of the twenty-first century to take as their own... the language used to carry the stories is lively and exciting for young readers... the language and style is simply good literature... suitable as teaching texts in social studies or health programs anywhere in the world where difference is an integral component of a community"
